Vacation in Bed.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your correspondent "Tramp" is welcome to use his vacation tramping about Missouri, to get better acquainted with its natural beauties. He says he has been reading Charles Lummis' book, "A Tramp

Across the Continent." Now I have been perusing J. M. Barrie's little book, "A Holiday in Bed," and think he has just struck

it. I believe I shall spend my vacation in bed.

Several things have conspired to tire me out of late. I am still tired from the exertion I made trying to save the country

last November. I am tired waiting for Mc-Kinley's brand of prosperity. I am tired waiting for Congress to do something with the tariff bill. And, besides, my sixth baby is cutting his teeth.

Yes, I shall spend my vacation in bed.

Read Barrie's book and you will see there is nothing like a holiday between the sheets.

Union Depot Elevator.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th inst.

and in reply to inform you that the revival of the grain business that will make business conditions for everybody.

But why do not the elevator men of this city, whom such a revival would most directly benefit, see to it that the big Union

Depot Elevator is repaired. For the credit of this city this elevator should be repaired

without more delay.

St. Louis, June 20. CITIZEN.

Swimming Baths.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

You have hit the nail on the head in advocating swimming baths as the next great improvement in St. Louis. They are badly needed.

During the hot weather, when one feels as if half his life could be spent in the water, there is nothing but the bath-tub

to satisfy one's longing.

It would be easy to dig swimming baths

in the way of possible infection. But bathing-houses and have the water running from the city mains at one end and out at the other. Thousands would take advantage of them, and a small fee could be charged that would soon reimburse

the city for the expenditure. J. I. C.

St. Louis, June 20.

A "Dumb Brute's" Home.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I see that a number of ladies are interesting themselves in trying to get a home built for helpless brutes of all kinds, especially dogs and horses.

I think they have set themselves too big a task. A home for lost dogs would be a good thing, but to include old horses and other animals would be absurd. It would be a "home" being out in the country, as it would need a good-sized field,

and a good-sized fence.

LA

In addition to stables and the dog's quarters.

There is a good home for lost dogs in London, England, which is very useful to owners of dogs and to those who want to buy a dog cheap. Something of this kind would be a good thing for St. Louis or any other city. But a home for all the old, lost and decrepit brute creation is another thing. By overloading their schemes the ladies will cause it to fail. HUMANITY.

St. Louis, June 20.

Wet Down the Pavements.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Soon after the rain has ceased, the pavements begin to show dry spots this hot weather. Soon the entire pavement is dry.

From feeling cool to the touch, the entire pavement is, in an hour or two, as hot as the top of an oven.

Then is the time for the merchant to send out a man with the hose and thoroughly wet down the pavement.

The hottest part of town is in the narrow business streets these days. The temperature here could be reduced several degrees by a wholesale flushing of the sidewalks and pavements two or three times a day.

Besides, it would lay the dust.

St. Louis has plenty of water. Why not make good use of it? It could not be put to a better use than in helping us to keep cool during hot spells. A few degrees less heat might save many from becoming victims of heat prostration.

Wet down the pavements. DOWN TOWN.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

AUGUST BETHEGE A STUDY FOR THE ALIENIST.

RAVES LIKE A WILD BEAST.

An Eight-Year-Old Boy Who Looks
and Acts Like a Little Demon.

Crouched in a corner of the observation
ward at the City Hospital, like an untamed beast in captivity, 8-year-old August Bethege gives vent to demoniacal frenzy. Murder is his hobby.
As told in the Post-Dispatch Tuesday, the Bethege boy appears to be a victim of hereditary insanity. His father's mad work has resulted in the slaying of one man—ex-Policeman Mahon—and the wounding of several others. The murderous instinct in the boy is abnormally developed.
Dr. Sutter, Superintendent of the City Hospital, says the case is in many respects remarkable. Physicians frequently discover hereditary insanity, but such aggravated cases as that of the Bethege boy are rare.
Yet there is a possibility that he may be cured.
When the youngster was taken to the hospital Tuesday, he was extremely violent.
Subsequently he became comparatively calm.
The insane boy was seated on a cot
Wednesday morning. As a Post-Dispatch reporter approached, he sprang from the cot and assumed a defensive attitude in a corner of the room.
"Take that man away!" the boy exclaimed,
addressing one of the attendants. A furious frown covered his face. His eyes flashed madly. With clinched fists he sprang toward the reporter. Then he attempted to scratch the face of the guard who stood near him. He kept up a continuous chatter—simply an incoherent conglomeration of words.
The boy is not lacking in vocabulary. He can use adjectives in a manner that would excite the envy of John J. Ingalls.
The general appearance of the youth is friendly. There is something about him suggestive of the lower animals. In general

BUYS A WINTER HOME

MRS. JAMES J. O'FALLON AC-
QUIRES THE BELLEVUE ESTATE

ON THE MISSISSIPPI SOUND.

It Is One of the Most Noted and Beautiful Demesnes in the South.

INSULTED WOMEN.

Paul Martin Fined $50 for Demonstrating a Curious Phase of Perversion.

Mrs. James J. O'Fallon of 3633 Olive street, has purchased the magnificent "Bellevue" estate, at Pasca-Goula, Miss.
Efforts have been made to keep the transaction private, as the O'Fallon family were not of one mind on the purchase. Mrs.
O'Fallon admitted her investment to a Post-Dispatch reporter, although she would not disclose any of the details.
The estate is the finest on the Mississippi sound. The palatial residence alone cost $22,000. It is fitted with a private gas plant and other conveniences befitting a royal lodging.
There are stables for twenty horses, a fine
kennel, spacious barns and paddocks, five cottages for employes, everything in fact that constitutes an ideal Southern home.
About the residence are 100 acres of the finest parkland in Mississippi.
On the estate is a magnolia grove that is known throughout the South. There is an imperial magnolia tree on the summit of a mountain that can be seen for miles around.
In another section of the estate is a magnificent grove of live oaks, some of which New England and Texas. In the days before the estate became residential, ship-builders
from as far as Maine went to the place
for massive timbers to use in building
ships.
Before the war the estate was the residence of the aristocracy of the South.
Probably through fear of yellow fever,
which the vicinity is exposed, although it has never appeared on the estate, the O'Fallon family opposed the purchase.
Mrs. O'Fallon was set on acquiring the property as soon as she set eyes on it. The negotiations were carried on by her nephew,
Mr. Arthur Conway Thornton, who is now in charge of the estate.
Mrs. O'Fallon contemplates using the estate as a summer resort.
St. Louis society will receive the announcement of the purchase with lively interest.
The O'Fallons are royal entertainers and Bellevue will be regarded as the prospective
scene of many delightful house-parties during the coming winter.

THE PAN-ANGLO-CLANS.

Westminster Abbey Filled, Though
Admission Was by Ticket.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

The services this morning
at Westminster Abbey, as a feature of the preliminaries of the Pan-Anglican conference, were simple but impressive. Over fifty archbishops and bishops occupied the sanctuary, flanked by two hundred of the minor clergy in vestments, and although admission was by ticket, every nook and cranny of the famous structure was occupied. The service followed the usual ritual of morning prayer and the celebration of the holy communion, special prayers being offered for Christian unity and the peace of all sects within the fold of one church.
To-night the delegates to the conference will leave for a visit to the landing place of St. Augustine.
INVADERS THE CAPITAL.
Philippine Rebels Search the Colonial Secretary's House.
VANCOUVER, British Columbia, July 1.
The rebellion on the Philippine Islands is not yet over. A few days ago an attack was made by the rebels upon the house of the Colonial Secretary of the Philippines,
which is situated in the center of the town of Manila. Fortunately for him he was absent at a dinner party, otherwise he would have been killed. His servants were locked up by the rebel visitors and the house carefully searched.

COAST DEFENSES.

Contract for Puget Sound's First Fortifications—More to Follow.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.—Bids have been opened for the construction for the first of the Puget Sound fortifications at Mar-rowstone Point, near Port Townsend.

There were fourteen bidders in the competition, representing firms from as far east as Chicago. The lowest figure submitted was that of the Pacific Bridge Co., of Portland, the amount of the bid being $145,430.

GOT JEWELS AND COIN.

Two Boys Held Incommunicado for Robbing B. W. Zallee's House.

B. W. Zallee's residence, 1118 North Sarah street, was robbed between 11 and 1 o'clock Wednesday. Two valuable diamond rings and a pocket-book containing a large sum of money were taken.
Mr. Zallee is a member of the firm of John C. Zallee & Son, tailors. The police directed Mr. and Mrs. Zallee to give out no information about the case.
Mr. and Mrs. Zallee think the jewels and money were stolen by two boys whose names they refuse to give.
The police have arrested two boys and are holding them incommunicado at the Sixth District Police Station.

THE WARLIKE JAPS

Threaten to Chastise Hawaii—New Taxes Levied in Japan.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 1.—The Jiji of Japan, a newspaper organ, says: "If Hawaii goes too far, we shall certainly be compelled to chastise her." Japanese laborers who were refused admittance into Hawaii and who were to be sent to Brazil, have declined to go to there. The Japanese Government has imposed new taxes on land and labor. In order to meet the increasing demand upon the treasury since the war.

Tavris, secured.

WANTED A KISS.

Didn't Get It and a Lively Row Ensued.

The refusal of Edward Draper's girl to allow a stranger to kiss her caused a lively row in the Sheraton House room at 14-Leffingwell and Franklin avenues Wednesday night.
The two were talking when the stranger came in. He walked up to the girl and asked for a kiss. She refused and he grabbed her.
He bowed a bow and then he took her through the hole, Kohr took careful aim and fired.
For once a policeman shot straight. The
bullet pierced the boy's breast.
Kohr walked away with a proud strut,
and a few hours later the street resumed its normal condition.

A RABID BULLDOG.

Rose St. Clair's Vicious Pet Created Great Excitement in the Bad Lands.

A mad bulldog, with hanging tongue and frothing mouth, created more excitement in the bad lands on Chestnut street, just east of Jefferson avenue, Wednesday afternoon,
than will be furnished all of the rounders
who visit that section in a month.
Not since John Thomas Brady chased
"Spokane" with a hatchet, and then explained to the officers that "me and Spokane was just playing tag," has the district
been in such a turmoil, and for an hour after the dog was shot the timid young things who have their being in the neighborhood were not able to resume their cigarettes and solitaires.

The dog was the property of Rose St.
Clair, who runs a sit-tar-tar joint in the block. It was a magnificent specimen of the English bulldog, and was greatly admired by dog fanciers. About three days ago
the animal developed an ugly disposition and made a savage attack upon a child who was passing. The police did not know to whom the dog belonged, and the St. Clair woman hid the animal in the cellar to prevent it being shot. On Wednesday afternoon the dog got loose.

He first dashed upstairs in his mistress's
house and made for the negro porter, who was washing the hall. The negro dropped his mop with a yell, and ran into the first room he could find, shouting that the dog was mad. The woman flew into her room and for several minutes the dog charged up and down the vacant hall,
while the inmates screamed for help.

A large crowd gathered and asked where the dog was. The animal answered the query in person and scattered the crowd in about three seconds.
Then he dashed at Johnny Horan,
who was standing in his saloon door, at Twenty-third and Chestnut. Horan is a dog fancier. He did not fancy the look of his visitor, and vaulted over the bar to escape the brute's heat.

The dog then took refuge in a shed in the rear of 236 Chestnut street. A small boy sneaked up and shut the door. He leaned up against it and shouted for help, fearing that if he stopped pushing the dog
would get out and catch him. Patrolmen Kohr and Healy came to the boy's rescue.
They borrowed Horan's 4-caliber "cannon" and started to exterminate the dog.
They were afraid to open the door, and Kohr peered through a knot-hole. He located the dog crouched in a dark corner.
The brute pierced the boy's heart.
For once a policeman shot straight. The
bullet pierced the boy's breast.
Kohr walked away with a proud strut,
and a few hours later the street resumed its normal condition.

A CLEAN SWEEP.

Superintendent Soldan Changing His Office Force.

Supt. Soldan's office in the Board of Education Building resembled a barren waste Thursday morning. Only one lone clerk was on duty.
Miss Woods has departed on her vacation. Mrs. Bernondy's resignation has been accepted and R. A. Dyer dropped from the rolls of the office force.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MACON, Mo., July 1.—When H. N. Graves, a Woodville merchant, returned from his father's funeral Monday he found Birch Menefee at his house courting his sister-in-law, Miss Mae Callicoth. Graves did not approve of the courtship, and a quarrel arose. As Menefee passed out of the gate Graves and his brother engaged him in a fight. Late yesterday afternoon Menefee came to Macon and secured a license to marry Miss Callicoth. Graves and Menefee
are determined men and fighters.

PROFITS TO SHARE.

WHEN BUSINESS IS RUN ON DECENT PRINCIPLES,

SAYS MR. TILLEY HAYNES.

"Here's a Case of Capital and Labor for Your Consideration," Adds the Successful Hotel Manager.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, July 1.—In celebration of his five years' ownership of the Broadway Central Hotel, which was completed yesterday, Mr. Tilley Haynes has announced a new business arrangement between his principal employees and himself.

In addition to their regular salaries, the heads of departments will, beginning with July 1, divide among them one-third of the profits of the house. This will make the Broadway Central the only large hotel in this city, if not in the country, which has the profit-sharing system. There is no partnership or contract between the parties, nor does any beneficiary of this new plan contribute any capital or assume any added responsibility.

Ten persons, including the head waiter, the housekeeper, and most of those in the hotel office, enter into this division of profits. Reckoning on the business of the hotel in the past, it appears that each of these persons will receive something more than $500 yearly, and in a very good year as high, perhaps, as $1,000. Payments will be made twice a year, and any one of the ten employees resigning or being discharged will receive a pro-rata share for the time he has worked.

In the letters on the subject which were sent to the employees yesterday, Mr. Haynes says that his idea is to relieve himself of the details of the business as far as possible, and he feels that with this inducement the heads of the departments will be more than ever alert in the performance of their duties.

Speaking to a reporter about the plan, he said: "Here's a case of capital and labor for your consideration. All this talk about natural and mutual sympathy is pure rot. It makes me mad. These fellows have worked for me for five years; stuck here and done the work when other things looked mighty gloomy, and all our friends told them that our money was going—well, to waste."

"Now that things are booming, the men that did the work are going to get some of the benefit of the labor they did for capital. That's all the mutual sympathy there is between labor and capital when a business is run on decent principles."

Mr. Haynes was in the Broadway Central, and also of the United States Hotel in Boston, which he owns, but he is 73 years old, though he looks fully 60. He came to a time where he wanted to devote more time to rest and enjoyment and less to business.

PEACEFUL CONTEST.

CLAN-NA-GAEL Guards Will Court Arrest under the Uniform Law.
CHICAGO, Ill., July 1.—The Clan-Na-Gael Guards have decided to test the new State law against uniformed and armed independent societies. Maj. James J. Kelly and his men will turn out July 22 to participate in the unveiling of the Logan statue. In the event of any trouble, they will be ready to be arrested. They are all eager volunteers to serve as martyrs.

Bondsman will be asked to these independent. There will be roses in the black mouths of the men, and it is said the defiance will be accepted. If no one else causes their arrest a member of another independent military company will take out warrants against them in order to bring the law into court.

FAST MAIL.

The Santa Fe's New Wrinkle—A Brand-New Departure.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 1.—The Santa Fe's new fast mail service to the South-west was inaugurated at 3 o'clock this morning. The train, after a great service it will give to commercial travelers and tourists, will also deliver the mail, including the morning papers of Kansas City, all along the line. It is the first time in three to six hours earlier than heretofore. This means, of course, that southwestern points will be in closer touch with the whole country.

The Washington Post-office department has ordered a midnight collection of mail here, the first in the history of Kansas City, and this mail, together with late mail from the East and North, will hereafter go West on the new train.

BEAT A HORSE CRUELY.

Charles Casey Used a Heavy Bludgeon on Another Brute.
Charles Casey, a negro, who the police say has served twelve years in the Missouri prison, was arrested Wednesday night at 330 Papin street for beating a horse with a heavy club.

Casey is a teamster for Lizzie Smith of 211 Morgan street. The horse did not move as swiftly as he desired. Seizing a piece of lumber about four feet long and four inches thick he knocked the animal down several times. The neighbors notified policeman Mulderig, who arrested Casey.

BURIAL OF HOEY.

Only the Family at the Grave—Numerous Floral Tributes.
NEW YORK, July 1.—The remains of Wm. F. Hoey were conveyed to their last resting place in Woodlawn today. None but members of the family followed the body to the cemetery. The floral tributes almost covered the casket, from eight. Those who followed were his widow, Helen A. French, Charles F. French, Jr., James Hoey, a brother; Mrs. M. T. French, W. D. Mann and several members of the French family.

TORPEDO BOATS.

Fleet of Government Vessels to Ascend the Mississippi.
NEW ORLEANS, La., July 1.—A fleet of ten torpedo boats will be sent up the Mississippi River as far as Dubuque some time this summer. The object is to show the people in the river cities along the river that modern boats of their class are like and go direct to New Orleans. It will then start on its journey up the Mississippi River. The department office also wish to discover how much hard work the boats are made of doing.

NACK ANALYZED.

IN THE CASE OF THE NEW YORK MURDER.

SS ELIZABETH L. BANKS.

lecture and Impressions of a Coarse and Unattractive Personality.

YORK, July 1.—Miss Elizabeth L. Banks, "Campaigner of Curiosity," of the most striking pieces of literature appearing in the English press, has turned her attention to the great murder mystery.

She studied Mrs. Augusta Nack, the woman who is believed to be the former of Wm. Guidensuppe, whose murder is believed to be the one found in the records of the press.

She looked hard and stern and cold. She was not pretty—she is too large for that to be properly applied to her, even if she was a good-looking woman, which, by mind, she is not. Her small, dark eyes are the shifty yet defiant sort. She is almost, but not quite, in the Just before her eyes reached mine seemed to fall, but they had a "don't" expression in them. They seemed to say, "You are my enemy. You have come to do me a bad turn. Well, go ahead, I stand it."

Her eyes are the most unattractive feature about her. Next in point of unattractiveness is her mouth. The lips are thin and firmly set together, giving one the impression that if she started out to do a thing, she would accomplish it. Her face is not so round and full as might be imagined from the newspaper pictures of her. She has a double chin, which, of course, makes her neck appear particularly short.

Her forehead is narrow, and her hair is combed smoothly back from her face. If she had worn her hair parted it would have displayed an ugly cowlick. Her nose is straight and of good features. She is tall and broad and stout, giving the impression of weighing 200 pounds. Her ears are that very frequently found among women, and she has a pair of them.

ROMANCE IN CHURCH.

PRETTY ST. LOUIS TEACHER WEDS A NEW YORK DIVINE.

HAS CHANGED HER RELIGION.

Miss Alvina Botticher, Presbyterian, Now the Bride of Rev. Carlos Rowlinson, Christian.

The marriage of Miss Alvina Botticher of this city to Rev. Carlos C. Rowlinson of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Wednesday, was the culmination of an interesting church romance.

The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride, 2723 Geyer avenue. Miss Botticher, who was reared in the Presbyterian Church, is now a member of the Christian Church. Her change of creed was due to the fact that her husband is a Christian minister.

Rev. Rowlinson's home is at Cedar Rapids, Ia. A few months ago he was introduced to Miss Botticher. It was a case of instantaneous infatuation. He soon won the love of the pretty St. Louis girl. Only a few weeks ago Mr. Rowlinson was called to the pulpit of a fashionable church in New York. Rev. Rowlinson journeyed to St. Louis after he had been appointed to the New York pulpit. He came to claim his bride. He urged immediate marriage. She consented.

The reverend sutor arrived here Saturday. Sunday he preached an eloquent sermon in one of the Christian Churches. His fiancée was an interested listener.

At the close of the service Miss Botticher and some friends lingered in the house of worship.

"I believe a minister's wife should belong to her husband's church," the bride declared.

"Then you may join our church if you are so disposed," responded the groom.

Without delay her betrothed performed the baptismal service.

So this is how pretty Miss Botticher, a life-long Presbyterian, changed her faith.

Mrs. Rowlinson is well known in South Side society, especially in church circles. She is a tall, stately blonde, with a pretty face and intellectual countenance. Rev. Rowlinson is a graduate of Yale College. He has bright prospects and will doubtless attain high rank in the ministry.

The bride and groom left Wednesday for New York.

SORRY FOR WILLIAM.

Miss Belle Norman Interceded for Katie Gray in Order to Smooth Love's Pathway.

If Miss Belle Norman had met with half the success in her late canvass for the School Board as she did at Mayor Ziegenhein's office Tuesday, she would probably take a more rosy view of politics.

However her easy victory with the Mayor marks her as having a decided turn for practical politics and a willingness to serve her constituents that is bound to make them have faith in her ability to serve them effectively.

It was told in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch how Miss Belle Norman appeared at the Mayor's office and put in a successful plea for the release of Katie Gray from the Work-house, where she had been sent to serve a fine of $10 for assault and battery.

Katie Gray is a likely mulatto, about 18 years old. Miss Norman had never seen her, but she had known William Williams, the young colored porter at her home for two years. He is Katie's sweetheart. William was so distressed over Katie's imprisonment that he went about his work as though he were deaf. Miss Norman feared that if Katie did not soon get her liberty, William would do something desperate, for he had no money to pay his wife's fine.

The offense for which Katie had been sent to the "Work" was assault and battery on another negro, the agent who collected the rents from a number of negro tenants on South Leonard street. The girl and her mother recently came here from Memphis, Tenn., and not finding work were unable to pay the rent. The agent went to the house Monday to evict Katie and her mother. A quarrel ensued, and the girl seized a piece of base ball bat and lammed him on the head with it, putting him to rout.

Miss Norman, though she had never met Katie Ziegenhein, boldly marched into his office, tersely related the facts to him, and in the most suave manner he complied with her request.

William accompanied Miss Norman to the Mayor's office and stood outside the door, with palpitating heart, awaiting the result of the momentous interview. When Miss Norman handed him the release, he bounded down the stairway, and a half hour later was at the Work-house, and Katie returned with him.

YEAST OF LONG DESCENT.

Brought From Ireland, Its Stock Goes Back to Cromwell's Time.

Miss Barbara Curran, who lives near the village of East Orrington, Me., has a stone crock on a shelf in her cellar which is filled with yeast, and both the crock and the yeast came over from Ireland in her possession in 1846, says the New York Sun.

She came to America when a girl, and brought the yeast as a present to an aunt who lived in South Boston. The yeast was renewed with freshly scraped potatoes three times during the voyage on the sailing packet that brought her to this country.

When she found employment as a cook in a Boston boarding-house she took the yeast along and kept it alive and vigorous until she married, in 1853, and went to live in Medford. Before the war her husband moved to this town and took up his farm where she now lives. Though they were poor and had much hard work, the yeast was never allowed to die out or get stale. The crock in which it is kept is a hand-molded brown earthen vessel, holding about two quarts. It was made and baked on the farm of Mrs. Curran's father, who rented a place near Galway, Mrs. Curran says this particular kind of yeast has been kept alive in the Norton family since before the time Cromwell's soldiers came along and found her great-great-grandmother making bread for the troops of King Charles I. and banded her to all ash trees in front of the house.

A Small Painting. Perhaps the smallest piece of painting in the world is that executed by a peasant artist. It is painted on the smooth side of a grain of common white corn, and pictures a mill and a miller with a sack of grain on his back. The miller is represented standing on a terrace, and near it is a horse and cart, while groups of several peasants is shown in the road near by.
